

Southeastern Theatre Conference
History/Theory/Criticism/Literature Committee
call for papers for
2012 YOUNG SCHOLAR'S AWARD

We invite submissions from graduate students and undergraduate students enrolled in programs as of Nov 22, 2011 relating to our committee interest areas of history, theory, criticism, and literature. One graduate and one undergraduate paper will be chosen to win $250 cash prizes, free conference registration, free membership for one year, a ticket to the States Luncheon, and to present their winning papers at the 2012 SETC conference, March 7-11, 2012 in Chattanooga, TN.*

Though our interest area is committed to the scholarly exploration of the issues that revolve around any and every theatre presentation, and though we focus on traditional studies in history, theory, criticism, and literature, we are also interested in contemporary subjects including: who teaches history, how we teach history, pedagogy, praxis vs. theory, censorship, telling/selling history, subjects that support as well as resist traditional approaches to history, theory, criticism and literature. Papers should be presentation length of 20 minutes/no more than 10 pages in length.

Deadline for submission: November 21, 2011 5pm EST.

Please submit by the deadline: your name and contact information (including email address, phone number, degree you are seeking, and school attending) one electronic copy attached to an email in Microsoft Word format, MLA style. No attached photographs or diagrams, papers only. In subject field please put: "SETC Young Scholars Last Name" (SETC Young Scholars Biby) and forward to gene.biby@uwc.edu.

*Winners must attend the 2012 conference to present their winning entry at the Young Scholars Award panel in March 2012 in order to accept prize money.
